

1431-1449

Council of Basle (or BASEL)
(of the Church)

1431-1433

Admiral Zheng He's 7th and last voyage; to Africa's Swahili coast, with a side trip to Mecca marked the end of China's golden age of exploration.

He presumably died on route home and was buried at sea.

1431 - 1447

1

The 208th Pope Eugene IV
Venice. He convened the XVII General Council, which was held first at Ferrara, then Florence (1438), the Greek Bishops submitted and were united with the Church; but 5 years later the SCISM revived.
Thus the Greeks themselves, having submitted 3 times to the authority of the church, have judged and condemned their schism.

1431

Burning of Joan of Arc

May 30, 1431

Joan of Arc was burned
at the stake in Rouen

1431

Council of Basel meets. Eugenius IV pope.

Jan of Arc tried and burnt at Rouen

1431

Thai armies attacked Angkor Wat and its people.

Then it was abandoned for the next 400 yrs.

Aug 14, 1431

1912 Dates J-BK

THAUSS

During the Hussite Wars
the Hussites met the Crusaders at THAUSS, a city of Bohemia and won a marvelous victory.

1431-49

Council of Basel
Roman Catholic Church council summoned to deal with Hussites

1433- Drew up Compactata

1431/1445

Council of Florence

Council of Ferrara - Florence

As a continuation of the Council of Basle (1431), it was convened at Ferrara in 1438, but, because of the ravages of the plague, Pope Eugene IV transferred it to Florence. The Council discussed the reunion of the Latins and the Greeks and the insertion of the word Filioque in the Creed. A decree of union was agreed upon in 1439 (but rejected in 1472 by G E N N A D I U S, the Patriarch of Constantinople, who had been appointed by the sultan of the Turks). The Council was finally adjourned in 1445 at Rome.

May 30, 1431
1412-1431

1912 Dates J-BK

JOAN OF ARC
(JEANNE D'ARC)

Born Jan 6, 1412 in the village of DOM REMY, near VAUCOULEURS, France, of a peasant family. Believing herself to be the deliverer of France from England she convinced CHARLES VII of her divine authority and he resolved to employ her. Donning male attire she made a triumphant entry into the besieged city of ORLEANS, from which time she was known as the "Maid of Orleans." She persuaded the DAUPHIN to be crowned July 17, 1429, at Rheims

Afterward captured by the Burgundians and sold to the English; imprisoned at Rouen, and after a trial which was a mere mockery of justice, was condemned as a sorceress, and a heretic and burned to death on May 30, 1431

1431

1912 Dates' J-BK

France

Joan of Arc is burned at Rouen.